St Gauderic

St Gauderic was a 9th century farmer in the region between Mirepoix and Fanjeaux. He is credited with various miracles including the healing of the son of the Count of Mirepoix! He was honoured locally by the naming of the village and church of St Gauderic, by a special side chapel in the cathedral at Mirepoix, and in numerous other locations in the Languedoc-Roussillon region. There is even a statue of St Gauderic in the church at Latour de France, near Perpignan.

The village of St Gauderic is a small community 8 kilometres NE of Mirepoix. Historically, it was a farming village, but with mechanisation and the decline of agriculture, this is now a small part of village life. We are especially pleased that the village has agreed to host the opening concert of the Festival which will take place in the church.

Mirepoix is small “bastide” town of some 3000 inhabitants which has recently developed as a major tourist destination, following the development of the airport at Carcassonne. It is noted for the impressive cathedral of St Maurice, for the medieval arcaded market square and its major festivals.

Auberge de Balestié

The Auberge de Balestié is a hotel and restaurant in the countryside between Mirepoix and St Gauderic. It occupies a beautiful hill-top location with splendid views of the Pyrenees.

It is owned and run by an English family, and has been refurbished to provide accommodation for 24 in double and twin rooms; a dining room, function room and swimming pool.

Festival Details

The Festival will include two choral concerts in different venues. The plan is for the first concert on Saturday 29 August to be in the church at St Gauderic, and the 2nd concert on Sunday 30th in the Cathedral at Mirepoix.

The plan for the 2009 festival has been enhanced from 2007 in two ways:

- We are negotiating to secure an orchestra for the Sunday performance.
- We are hoping to arrange a chamber music concert on the Thursday, and a recital for the four soloists (to be confirmed) on the Friday.

We are pleased to announce that we have again secured the services of Nigel Speak as musical director for the Festival. He has many years experience as a choral director and is currently living in France and working world-wide as an examiner for the Associated Board.

John Walton will again be the accompanist, and, we hope, will be giving a recital on the famous organ at Mirepoix Cathedral.

Keep an eye on our Website, www.stgauderic.net, for further information about St Gauderic, the Festivals and related items of interest.

Arrangements for the Choir

Chorus Members will be accommodated mainly at the Auberge de Balestié, although it will not be possible to accommodate the entire choir there. Suitable additional accommodation has been secured. The Festival Administrator will allocate the accommodation during the spring.

Block booking of flights to this part of France has proved not to be cost effective; cheaper deals are normally available to individuals. Flights are available to either Carcassonne or Toulouse from Stansted, Heathrow, Gatwick, Manchester, Liverpool or East Midlands airports. Please make your own arrangements and let the Festival Administrator know when you will be arriving. Transport will be provided from these airports to the accommodation, and back again after the festival. Chorus members choosing to travel by car or train are welcome. Please arrange to arrive at the Auberge before lunch on Thursday morning; there is plenty of parking.

The standard fee is inclusive of accommodation, meals at the Auberge, picnics at lunchtimes, transport to and from airports and between venues. The price quoted is for shared accommodation; a supplement will be charged for single rooms.

If you wish to arrive before or stay on after the Festival at the Auberge, please let the Festival Administrator know, as rooms have been reserved for this purpose.

Chorus members who choose to make their own accommodation arrangements are also welcome and will be charged a reduced fee. A variety of hotels, gites, campsites and other facilities are available within reasonable distance. Meals at the Auberge and lunchtime picnics should be booked in advance; the Festival Administrator will advise you of prices.

The Festival Banquet will be at the Auberge on Monday 31 August 2009, and it is hoped that all members of the chorus, and those associated with the Festival will be able to attend. This is included in the Standard Fee, but will be charged extra to those making their own arrangements.

Places are available for non-singing members of the party, eg partners of chorus members. The full standard fee will be payable for these individuals on the same basis as chorus members.

An early deposit in January 2009 is needed in order to secure the Auberge and other accommodation.

Note to NW Singers.

Ryanair are now accepting internet bookings from Liverpool to Carcassonne for August/September 2009, and from our experience over many years, this is likely to be the cheapest route available.

You may get a reasonable deal from Manchester to Toulouse on BMI. Another option for the more adventurous is on Easyjet, Manchester or Liverpool to Barcelona, which is about 4 hours by car on the autoroute, or a beautiful day's drive over the mountains, or a stunning train journey through the Pyrenean valleys to Pamiers.

There may also be cheap flights with BMIBaby, Manchester to Perpignan on the appropriate days but you will need to make your own arrangements for the transfer to and from St Gauderic. Car hire may be good value for a group.

Beware of the potential excess baggage charges, especially with Ryanair. For advice, contact the Festival Administrator.
